When we decided we needed to overhaul our marketing materials we decided to deal locally because we could have a hands on approach throughout the process and to deal with someone face to face rather than dealing over the phone to someone interstate. We approached Not Just A Copy Shop to discuss our requirements and to speak to someone who could make this happen. I spoke with Lou Armstrong (the owner) and he suggested a visit to our business to better understand our needs to improve our exposure. As a company that deals with interstate clients we needed to inform potential clients and existing ones what we could offer them in a package that they could have at their fingertips. We were looking to provide our clients with a document that informed them of the plants we produce and our current stock list that they could access in a professional layout.

With all the information that we had, we then discussed the layout with Not Just A Copy Shop graphic designer, Jodie Ewin, to put it all together into a format that would showcase our business in a very professional manner. Our business is a market leader and we wanted our marketing material to compliment that. Dealing with Jodie throughout the process was great, she came up with a format that we liked, kept us up to date on the progress and when she said she would have it finished in the time frame, it was.

We found the process to reach our business needs very enjoyable as all the team at Not Just A Copy Shop showed a professional attitude, great customer service and reliability.

We pride ourselves on our customer service and quality of product and we also found that with dealing with Lou and his team.

If you are looking to enhance your business, take the time to visit Not Just A Copy Shop and discuss how you can achieve it. It's working for us.

A pleasure to do business with.
